President Joe Biden to Address Virtual NALEO 38th Annual Conference

The President will provide remarks for Latino leaders during White House and National Leadership Forum

Washington, D.C. – The National Association of Latino Elected and Appointed Officials (NALEO) announced today that President Joe Biden will provide remarks for the nation’s largest gathering of Latino policymakers during the White House and National Leadership Forum on Thursday, June 24, 2021.

With remarks from President Joe Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris, the forum marks the first time that the NALEO Conference has featured participation from both the sitting President and Vice President of the United States.

NALEO is hosting the forum as part of this year’s Virtual NALEO 38th Annual Conference (June 23–24). In what hopes to be NALEO’s last pandemic-required event of its kind, the Virtual Conference continues NALEO’s tradition of bringing together Latino leaders from across the country to help foster premier leadership and the meaningful exchange of ideas around today’s most pressing policy issues.
